

Student Scholarship Conference at Harvard

Last Friday, Dr. Teri Marcos was the invited keynote speaker at the Student Scholarship Conference at Harvard University. The topic of her address was, "Academic Optimism and the Affective in Improving Student Performance." She was also a member of a panel discussion.

Spectrum Open House

An Open House for prospective students was hosted on Saturday, April 9th at the Spectrum Campus. Sanford College of Education had 35 students who came to learn about our programs. Drs. Evans, Padover, and Elder provided the students with in-depth information about our programs.

Many other campuses are hosting Open Houses this month. Please send pictures and a story about your open house to delder@nu.edu.

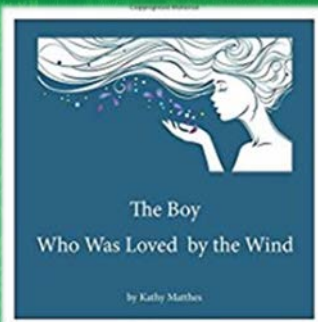

Northern California Commencement

The Northern California Commencement will be held on Sunday, April 22nd at the San Jose Convention Center. This is always an exciting time of the year as we are able to see our students complete their educational journey.

Congratulations!

Kathy Matthes, an adjunct faculty member, is this year's third place winner in the prose category at Palomar College for her book, "The Boy Who Was Loved by the Wind." Her award will be presented at the annual Bravura Gala, which will be held at the Palomar College Black Box Theater.
