

stories2music

Bringing stories and music to life

September 2018

Newsletter

Volume 1, Issue 7

Terrible Love

Christian poet, Jean Noah, and stories2music have teamed up to try a new genre: poetry2music. Jean's beautifully transparent and vulnerable poem, Terrible Love, has now been released. The deeply emotional music by Christian Telford and Matthew St. Laurent enhances the poem's message about the deep love God has for us, a love that will remove the dross from our character no matter what the cost. You can read more of Jean's poems in her collection of poems called Legacy on Amazon.com.

The Rescue!

The True Love Imagined Collection has a new release: The Rescue. Heading home on a stormy night, the couple attempts a daring rescue of a run-away horse. Foley sound effects bring the story to life. Experience the drama!

New Blog Post

In previous blog posts, I explained how music (especially film music) can enhance a narrated story. The music tells the listener how to "feel" about the story. However, sound effects make the story real. Find out more about Foley sound effects and try the experiment in my new blog post: Thank you, Mr. Foley.

Adopt-a-Story!

If you like listening to free stories2music, help bring new stories to life by adopting a new story. You can be a story's full sponsor or be a co-sponsor with others. Please go to the s2m donation page for more information. Thank you for supporting stories2music!

New Releases!

- The Rescue
- Terrible Love

Awaiting Funding!

- One Life
- A Grateful Heart
- The Fire!

Kindle e-books

Three companion e-books are now available on Amazon Kindle.

- The Boy Who Was Loved by the Wind
- True Love Imagined Collection
- The Edwardian Collection

"The Boy Who Was Loved by the Wind" is also available in paperback with full-page color photos.

This award-winning story was published in the May 2018 Bravura Literary Journal.

Purchase your copies today on Amazon.