New Story for St. Patrick's Day

Kate and Michael are hosting their annual Emerald Isle Day on their farm for family and friends. It's an afternoon of Irish activities and treats and an evening of Irish food, storytelling and a live Celtic band. When Kate secretly observes Michael playing his violin in the forest, she is transformed by it.

The Violin

Richard Allen Harvey's music, "Bridget Cruise," has a lovely Irish feel that fits the story perfectly! The violin solo is Bach's Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring.

In the Beginning

This Easter poem explores the relationship between God and His Son and their plan for redemption.

Welcome Home

When Kate and Michael stand before their new home, Kate imagines the life they will have there.

The Paper Anniversary

Kate and Michael agree to celebrate their paper anniversary with surprise gifts and new adventures.
